DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed on January 6, 2006 is acknowledged. The amendments to claims 18 and 46 do not patentably distinguish the claims over the prior art of record for the reasons stated below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 18, 26 and 46-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kushnir et al. (6,685,731).

As to claims 18 and 46-47, Kushnir et al. disclose a method comprising the acts of:

monitoring for both vasoconstriction and vasodilation in a portion of a body;

supplying heat to that body portion, adjusting its temperature; and controlling the vasoconstriction (col. 8, lines 47-62 and col. 10, line 29-col. 11, line 25).

Note that in col. 8, Kushnir et al. recite:

“As explained above, the skin temperature is measured, in accordance with one embodiment of the invention, in order to determine the heat transfer dynamics (HTD) of the skin. For the same purpose, as an alternative to measurement of skin temperature, other parameters may be measured which include skin color, skin conductance, peripheral blood pressure, temperature drop of the heating or cooling fluid (as will also be outlined below), as well as any other parameters which can give an indication of occurrence of vasoconstriction or vasodilatation".

The examiner maintains that this constitutes monitoring for both vasoconstriction and vasodilation in a portion of a body, i.e., monitoring for either is the same as monitoring for both.

Further to claim 48, Kushnir et al. disclose the act of determining vasoconstriction or vasodilation, wherein the act of determining vasoconstriction or vasodilation includes sensing a characteristic of the body associated with the state of vasoconstriction or vasodilation by measuring blood flow with echo or ultrasound Doppler (col. 5, lines 5-11).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-17, 27, 29-33, 35, 37-44 are allowed.

Claims 19-25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
